

Women leaders in Business Technology

Are you interested in meeting women who are business technology leaders?

McKinsey's international workshop for female students and professionals interested in technology as a business solution will take place on October 23-25, 2015, in Barcelona

Learn what it's like to lead as a woman in business and technology at a truly global firm. Meet women from all over Europe, Middle East and Africa who share your interests. Find out more about McKinsey's perspectives on work, life, and family. Discover the career opportunities we offer and get the inside story on life as a consultant. For more information and to apply online by September 25th, visit

womenleadersinbusinesstechnology.mckinsey.com

